BIOGRAPHY

Danielle Alura is an international model, actress, singer, speaker and interior designer. After winning the state of Florida, she won the national title of Miss Global USA 2023 and represented the United States at Miss Global in Vietnam and Cambodia. She placed in the top 20 of 80 candidates and won first place in the talent competition with her own rendition of "Never Enough."

She has graced more than 30 magazines, including VOGUE China, Esquire and Harper's Bazaar, and has been featured on a Times Square billboard, on FOX News and in the New York Post.

As an executive board member of the national charity Family Promise, she has helped raise millions of dollars, rehouse more than 380 families and build a residence that houses 13 families at a time. She is also a mother and leads major home renovation projects.
